

Philosophy Science and the Sciences

at Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Humboldt-Universität

Markus Asper

Professor of Classics

Jonathan Beere

RTG Spokesperson,
Professor for Ancient Philosophy and History of Knowledge

Gerd Graßhoff

Professor of History of Ancient Science

Christoph Marksches

Professor of Ancient Christianity

Stephen Menn

Professor of Ancient and Contemporary Philosophy

Philip van der Eijk

Alexander von Humboldt Professor of Classics and History of Science

Barbara Vetter

Junior Professor for Theoretical Philosophy

Joseph Bjelde

Roberto Lo Presti

Michalis Sialaros

Freie Universität

Lukas Mühlethaler

Junior Professor for Jewish Philosophy and Aesthetics

Bernd Roling

Professor for Latin Philology

Max Planck Institute for the History of Science

Jürgen Renn

Director

Doctoral Program in Ancient Philosophy and Science

Starting October 2016

Philosophy, Science and the Sciences is devoted to the dialogue between different forms and models of knowledge in ancient Greek, Roman and Arabic philosophy and science. It offers an interdisciplinary, structured program leading to the doctoral degree.

Intensive supervision, small classes, English-language instruction, international faculty and guest researchers, Ancient Philosophy & Science Network, strong support for post-doctoral careers.

Three-year doctoral fellowship

Apply by 15 December 2015

Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin ancient-philosophy.hu-berlin.de

